

The Space Party

It was [1_____]'s birthday, and this year, he/she decided to celebrate it in space.

Last year's theme, "[2_____] in [3_____]," had been pretty cool, but this space theme was going to be better.

He/she couldn't find a rocket to get him/her to space, so he/she took a [4_____] instead. All it needed was a bit of [5_____] for fuel and it would be just like a rocket.

The journey only took [6_____], though there was a brief detour through a cloud of floating [7_____].

Once he/she arrived, aliens greeted him/her by throwing [8_____] and yelling, "[9_____]!"

Someone had already started decorating the space station with [10_____], and [11_____], taped to the ceiling.

For snacks, there were freeze-dried [12_____] and fizzy bottles of [13_____].

The birthday cake was shaped like a [14_____] and filled with warm, gooey [15_____].

For fun, they played "Alien Charades" and don't wake the [16_____]"

As the party ended, [1_____a_____] floated back home, stuffed with cake and a bit concerned about the glowing [17_____] stuck to his/her shoe.

He/she made a note: "Next year, let's just do [18_____] in [19_____]."
