

a letter for the ex

Hey [1. _____],

I was going to leave it at the last message, but then I found your [2. _____] in my [3. _____] and figured I should say something.

First of all, thanks for ghosting me after the [4. _____]. Very smooth. [5. _____] said it best: “You always did love a dramatic [6. _____].”

I’ve been fine, really. I’ve started going to [7. _____] on Thursdays and yelling your name into a [8. _____] just for fun.

Also, I boxed up your [9. _____], [10. _____], and that weird [11. _____] you kept in the bathroom. It’s all with [12. _____] now. Ask nicely.

Since the split, I’ve upgraded my [13. _____], deleted your name from my [14. _____], and renamed your contact to “[15. _____]”.

Last night, I saw [16. _____] at [17. _____], and we both agreed your taste in [18. _____] was always questionable.

Anyway, no shade. Just wanted to say good luck with your next [19. _____], and don’t forget to un-tag me from the post about [20. _____]. Take care,
