Not everyone knows the [1._____] history of the leprechaun. Most know a leprechaun as a [2._____] little character who hides a pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

But did you know that legend has it that it wasn't originally a pot of gold? It was in fact a [3._____] full of [4._____]!

Leprechauns would hide this to protect it from those who were greedy, but also from dangerous [5._____] and [6._____].

Leprechauns, known for their [7._____] shoes and [8._____] hats, were once considered [9._____] of [10._____], guiding lost travelers and [11._____] with those in need.

In true Irish folklore, leprechauns were actually [12._____] and known for their [13._____].

On St. Patrick's Day, it's said that wearing [14._____], especially in the color [15._____] makes one invisible to leprechauns, who are notoriously [16._____].

So, next time you spot a rainbow, remember the original leprechaun story and let's celebrate these [17._____] creatures
