

Girl Scout Mad Lib

[1_____] and [2_____] were [3_____] about being in the girl scouts. This month they were going to try to earn a new [4_____] badge, that could take [5_____] to achieve. They also remembered that they were going to a camp in [6_____] soon, but they needed to fundraise money for it.

They didn't have girl scout cookies to sell, though, but [2_____], being the smartest, thought they could sell [7_____]-covered [8_____] cookies that they make themselves.

After [9_____] they had raised [10_____] dollars.
"[11_____]!" said [1_____] in excitement about the result.

As they got ready for camp, they packed their bags full of [12_____] and [13_____] clothes. They then travelled by [14_____] and pitched their tent in [15_____].

[2_____] made a fire by lighting a pile of [16_____],
and then [1_____] put marshmallows on the end of long [17_____] to roast over the [18_____] fire.

"Being a girl scout is [19_____]," said [1_____].
They did one last [4_____] and then went to bed.
